

Restoration Passage On-Line Coaching Agreement

Definition of Coaching Role

The online coaching role is not equivalent to that of a psychotherapist or mental health counselor. While the services provided can be considered therapeutic and supportive on many levels, they are not meant to replace services offered by a licensed mental health or medical professional. Referrals to licensed mental health or medical professionals will be provided to each client upon request.

Definition of Services

The focus of each session will be to determine elements of each client's God-designed identity, spiritual gifts, and potential ministry paths the client is called or led to pursue. Assistance can also be provided to identify and achieve the client's relational, spiritual, personal, and/or professional goals from a biblical perspective. Spiritual interventions, prayer, and scripture will be used during each session.

Results are attained collaboratively as each client pursues a relationship with God through the power of Jesus Christ as led by the Holy Spirit. Factors that impact results are greatly influenced by the client's investment in spiritual disciplines outside of each session. Session time will be spent in self-exploration through collaborative conversations, construction of meaning from life's circumstances, and discernment of what steps you can take to promote positive changes spiritually, personally, professionally, and relationally.

RestorationPassage.com services are provided "as is", without warranty of any kind, either express or implied, including without limitation any warranty for information, services, coaching, uninterrupted access, or products and services provided through or in connection with this service. The method and process by which this advice and direction are given in no way would constitute an agreement or liability on the part of RestorationPassage.com and is acknowledged to be different in many ways than a one-on-one coaching or mentoring process that would happen if the parties were meeting in the same physical facility.

The advice given through the use of this web site is given based solely on information provided by the client. Due to omitted information on the part of the individual presenting the information, both verbal and non-verbal, it may not be fully possible to address the client's specific problem through this format. Phone sessions, or one face-to-face session if at all feasible, may be required initially.

Any individual with specific questions regarding their individual services options should contact RestorationPassage.com to discuss further. By submitting a question to RestorationPassage.com, the on-line client accepts this disclaimer and agrees to the process outlined in the body of the site. If this agreeable, the on-line client can proceed with the on-line service offerings.

Confidentiality

Personal information or business information supplied by clients in coaching sessions will be treated as confidential. Client information will not be disclosed to a third party without prior permission granted in writing, save where required by law or where action might be necessary to prevent harm to the client or someone else. The client takes full responsibility and understands the limits of confidentiality of information they submit through electronic media. RestorationPassage.com will commit to the best possible means available to protect client information once received from clients.

Disclaimer

The client agrees that the use of all, or part, of the service is entirely at the client's own risk. Any actions or lack of actions, taken by the client of such advice is done so solely by choice and responsibility of the client. No assumption of responsibility is made, or given, and the party requesting such advice agrees not to hold RestorationPassage.com responsible or liable in any form or fashion, for such actions taken of their own accord. Neither RestorationPassage.com, nor any other party involved in creating, producing or maintaining this site shall be liable for any direct, incidental, consequential, indirect or punitive damages arising out of your access to, or use of, this site or the information contained within.
